

The Moment

Sure, he took first place at the Portrait Society of America's International Competition in 2005. But Mau-Kun Yim was already revered in Taiwan, where he was tapped to paint portraits of the vice president and the premier, has authored 30 books on painting and drawing and has won numerous awards. The Steve Carpenter Gallery and Art Center in Rochester was able to land him for a Drawing and Oil Painting Workshop recently for students from the center and from New York City. Space was limited, and attention was rapt.

PHOTO BY MATT WITTMAYER